Jaipur is the capital of India’s Rajasthan state. It evokes the royal family that once ruled the region and that, in 1727, founded what is now called the Old City, or “Pink City” for its trademark building colour. At the centre of its stately street grid (notable in its rigidity) stands the opulent, collonaded City Palace complex. Part of it is still a royal residence with gardens, courtyards, and museums.
Day 1

Morning & Afternoon

After having breakfast at the hotel, start your day with a visit to Amber Fort, a stunning fortress-palace complex located on a hilltop. Taking an elephant ride to reach the fort is highly recommended. Otherwise, take a jeep ride or simply walk up the hill.

After visiting Amber Fort, head to the nearby Jaigarh Fort, which is connected to Amber Fort by a subterranean passage. Jaigarh Fort is known for its impressive collection of armouries and weapons.
After that, visiting Jal Mahal is a great idea! It's a beautiful palace located in the middle of the Man Sagar Lake in Jaipur, Rajasthan, India. It's a great place to explore the stunning architecture, culture, and history of the region. I recommend visiting the palace during the early morning or late afternoon when the sun is low in the sky, as the palace looks stunning with the reflection of the sun on the lake. You can also take a boat ride to get a closer look at the palace.
Day 1

Evening

End your day by watching a traditional Rajasthani folk dance performance at Chorkhi Dhani, a cultural village located on the outskirts of the city. Chorkhi Dhani is around 27 km away from Amber Fort and will take around an hour to reach. You can also enjoy a Rajashtani-style dinner there before returning to your hotel.
Day 2

Morning

Start your day with a visit to the Hawa Mahal, also known as the Palace of Winds. It is a five-story palace with a facade made of pink sandstone, which features 953 windows or “jharokhas” that allow cool air to flow through the palace.

From there, head to the Albert Hall Museum, which is located in the heart of the city and features a wide range of exhibits, including artefacts from the Mughal and Rajput periods.
Day 2

Afternoon

Have lunch at a local restaurant and then visit the City Palace, which is a beautiful complex of palaces, courtyards, and gardens. It is also the residence of the current royal family of Jaipur. From there, head to the Jantar Mantar, an observatory built in the 18th century, which features a collection of astronomical instruments.

From there, head to the markets of Jaipur such as Johari Bazaar and Bapu Bazaar, where you can shop for souvenirs, jewellery, and textiles.
Day 2

Evening

Enjoy a sunset view at Nahargarh Fort, which offers a panoramic view of the city. The fort is beautifully lit up in the evening, there are several restaurants nearby where you can have dinner.
Visiting Agra is a must-do if you're in India. Agra is home to some of the most iconic monuments in the world, such as the Taj Mahal, Agra Fort, and Fatehpur Sikri. You can learn about India's rich history and culture, explore the stunning architecture, and enjoy delicious food. Agra is also an excellent place for shopping, with its bustling markets and handicrafts. There's something for everyone to enjoy in Agra, so don't miss out on this amazing experience!
Day 1

Early Morning

Start your day early by visiting the Taj Mahal, one of the world’s most famous and beautiful structures. You can admire the sunrise view, which is a stunning and memorable sight to see. The Taj Mahal is open from sunrise to sunset every day, except for Fridays when it is closed.

After spending a few hours exploring the Taj Mahal and its intricate details, head back to your hotel for breakfast.
Day 1

Morning to Afternoon

Next, head to Agra Fort, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and a former residence of the Mughal emperors. You can explore the fort's various sections, including the Jahangir Palace, the Khas Mahal, and the Diwan-i-Am.
In the evening, head to the Mehtab Bagh, a beautiful garden located on the opposite bank of the Yamuna river. It offers a stunning view of the Taj Mahal, especially during sunset.
Start your day early by visiting Fatehpur Sikri, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the former capital of the Mughal Empire. It's about a one-hour drive from Agra and it's worth the visit to explore its stunning architecture and history.

If you're looking for things to see in Fatehpur Sikri, you won't be disappointed! There are plenty of sites to explore, including the Agra Fort, Buland Darwaza, Jami Masjid, Diwan-i-Khas, Diwan-i-Aam, Panch Mahal, and many other historical monuments. You can also visit the Fatehpur Sikri wildlife sanctuary, which houses a variety of wildlife including deer, antelope, sloth bears, and more. Additionally, the city is known for its many traditional markets, where you can pick up some handcrafted souvenirs to take home. Finally, be sure to take a tour of the nearby archaeological site of Bhangarh Fort. With so many things to see and explore, Fatehpur Sikri is sure to be an unforgettable experience!
Day 2

Afternoon

In the afternoon, visit the Tomb of Itimad-ud-Daulah, also known as the Baby Taj, which is a beautiful mausoleum and a stunning example of Mughal architecture. If time allows, you can also visit the Akbar Mausoleum, located on the outskirts of Agra, which is the tomb of the great Mughal Emperor Akbar.
Day 2

Evening

End the day by visiting the local markets in Agra and Shopping for some souvenirs and handicrafts.
RANTHAMBORE
Ranthambore is a beautiful destination located in the state of Rajasthan in India. It is known for its incredible wildlife, especially its majestic tigers. The area is home to Ranthambore National Park, one of the best-preserved wildlife sanctuaries in India. Here you can spot a variety of wildlife such as leopards, sloth bears, wild boars, hyenas, and more. The park is also home to a variety of birds including painted storks, black-necked storks, and white ibis. In addition to the wildlife, Ranthambore is also known for its stunning architecture and ancient Hindu temples. There are several forts and palaces around the area, and many of them have been converted into heritage hotels. Whether you're looking for a wildlife adventure or a heritage tour, Ranthambore is the perfect destination.
First thing in the morning, head to Ranthambore National Park for a jungle safari. The park is famous for its tigers, leopards, and other wildlife, and the morning is the best time to spot them. After the safari, return to your accommodation for breakfast and some rest.
Afternoon

In the afternoon, visit Ranthambore Fort, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and a popular tourist attraction. You can explore the fort's various structures, including temples, palaces, and gates, and enjoy the panoramic views of the surrounding area.
Evening

End the day with a visit to the local market to shop for some souvenirs and handicrafts.
